

DERBY – GREAT PLACE, GREAT BASE

“Stay & Festé” in Derby September 26/27

Derby is offering its visitors the chance to enjoy a city break from just £49 per room in a city centre hotel at the time of one of the biggest outdoor street festivals in England.

Firmly established as one of the top events of its kind in the UK, as well as one of the biggest in the whole of the Midlands, the eighth annual Derby Festé will this year take place over the weekend of September 26th and 27th.

And VisitDerby has now announced a number of special offer deals for visitors who want to stay-over in the city at the time of the event.

Six city centre hotels are offering overnight accommodation, with full details available at www.visitderby.co.uk/festehoteloffers.

An overnight stay at the city’s Hallmark Inn near the railway station, for example, will cost two people sharing either a twin or double room just £49 per night.

First staged in 2007 as a way of helping to showcase the changes to the city brought about by more than £2-billion worth of regeneration, Derby Festé somehow symbolises the city’s new-found spirit, and brings with it a mood of celebration set against the vibrant backdrop of street culture.

Having grown to the point where it now offers locals and visitors alike two days of world-class outdoor performance, Derby Festé 2014 will take place throughout the city centre on Friday September 26th and Saturday 27th, and will feature a full line-up of acts and events – all of which can be found at <http://www.derbyfeste.com/>.
